

Meet William

William loves sports—and a challenge!

William has a bright imagination and bubbly personality that is guaranteed to make anyone smile. He enjoys playing video games, listening to music, watching movies, and playing on the computer. William also loves sports and will challenge anyone who thinks he or she can beat him! He is fond of the outdoors and enjoys a variety of activities, but especially loves water sports. William needs a patient mother and father to aid him in expressing his thoughts and feelings appropriately. It is important for him to have one-on-one time with his parents and to be reminded that he is loved. With consistency and structure, William will thrive and reach his full potential!
